APPOINTMENT – GENERAL MANAGER EXPLORATION

Mt Isa Metals is pleased to announce that Mr Andrew Bowden has been appointed as General Manager – Exploration.

Andrew has in excess of 30 years experience in the global exploration industry and has specific expertise in base metal (copper) and uranium exploration which is of key relevance to Mt Isa Metals.

Andrew's exploration successes have included the discovery of the Kayelekera uranium deposit in northern Malawi, and, he was instrumental in the delineation of the Az Zafirah bauxite deposit in the Proterozoic Shield of Saudi Arabia.

Managing Director Peter Spiers said, "we are very pleased to have Andrew join the company, he brings a wealth of exploration experience to the team gained across a wide range of commodities and geological environments."

"Andrew's appointment will allow Mt Isa Metals to further accelerate exploration programs already commenced and to pursue additional growth opportunities," he added.

Andrew has a BSc Hons in Chemistry and Geology from Aston University and an MSc Mineral Exploration from the Royal School of Mines, Imperial College. He is also a Chartered Geoscientist and Fellow of the Geological Society.

Mt Isa Metals is a brand new exploration company focussed on the discovery and development of world class mineral deposits in central and north-west Queensland.

Mt Isa Metals recently completed a successful $7 million IPO and was admitted to the Official List of the Australian Securities Exchange on 22 August 2008.
